

Upskilling Professional

Triggers

My engineering degree from back home isn't recognized here, and I'm stuck driving a taxi. Job applications keep rejecting me for 'local experience' I can't get without a job

Goals

To fast-track certification in my field without drowning in debt or full-time study.

I need to know

Which tools can 'translate' my resume into local formats or match my skills to in-demand jobs? Is there a way to cross reference my credentials comparing foreign qualifications to local standards. How to prep for technical interviews when I lack local jargon.

I need to feel

Pride and confidence in my existing skill set and qualifications. Hopeful that bridging courses can be found and prior learning can be recognised.

Intrinsic Motivations to learn

Being able to finally use my expertise to help others. Getting a job doing what I've always done or what I love and am good at. Making my family proud.

Extrinsic Motivations to learn

Visa requirements to find skilled work.
Financial incentive.
Societal pressure to contribute.

Notes
Has professional qualifications but needing local certification or skill upgrades.
Needs: Recognition of prior learning, local industry knowledge, exam preparation.
